THE UNION

VOL. XIX.—NO. 5850 | PORTLAND, OREGON SATURDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1879 | TEN CENTS

GENERAL NEWS

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN

Must Have a Quorum

AUGUSTA Me Dec [illegible] that Skowhegan [illegible] reluctance by the governor [illegible] only as the last resource in order to make sure of a quorum [illegible] This view is corroborated by a letter addressed only last week by Hon F C Parker [illegible] Mr. Steward republican representative elect from Skowhegan At that [illegible] that it had not been determined [illegible] Skowhegan [illegible] The republican state committee will meet here in the early part of next week The call for an indignation meeting to morrow night has been signed by the best citizens

Hollowell will hold an indignation meeting on Saturday The governor and council have been engaged on county returns

The Strike

CHICAGO, Dec 18—There was only a trifling amount of work done in the packing house at the stock yards to day All the hogs have been cleared up in the houses and packers profess themselves ready to await the actions of the striking workmen Daniel O'Connell, president of the union claims that there are 10 000 members now on the strike. They are well organized and say they have plenty of money and intend to do no work in a house which employs non union men They will attempt no violence and are quiet, although they held two secret meetings to-day In one house 1400 men left because three non-union men were employed in another house 700 struck because one non unionist was employed

Heavy Failure

[illegible], Dec 18—Thomas Neil a local cattle king, whose operations have been very heavy, failed for from two to three hundred thousand dollars probably the latter amount He was widely known and universally regarded as benevolent conscientious and upright. His whereabouts are unknown

Terrible Murder.

[illegible], Ill., Dec. 18—Suspicion of a foul murder has been aroused at New Canton [illegible] miles south of here, by finding the house formerly occupied by a man and his family entirely deserted but with all the furniture intact and blood on various articles about the place Cries of murder were heard coming from the house last Thursday night [illegible] investigation was made until yesterday [illegible] was found that a neighbor who had [illegible] their lives had shipped his goods [illegible] same time to Doraine in this county The theory is that he packed the bodies of [illegible] in casks and took them along The excitement is intense in that section and [illegible] are scouring the country in search of [illegible] and for the supposed murderer

Defalcation.

[illegible], Dec 18—A defalcation of over [illegible] has been discovered by the books of [illegible] Mayor Johnston He took the [illegible] and compelled his clerk to force balances He being dead, his bondsmen will be [illegible]

Meeting to Consider Asylum Reforms.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18—A meeting was held [illegible] in Cooper Union to consider the [illegible] alleged to exist in the case of the insane [illegible] city and state and also the propriety [illegible] the state legislature for the [illegible] of a permanent board of commissioners in lunacy Geo W Curtis presided. Many women were on the platform [illegible] crowded men

Fire in a Theater.

[illegible] Dec 18—The play at the Park [illegible] was interrupted about 9 o'clock this [illegible] by an alarm of fire The treasurer [illegible] theater was leaving the box office in [illegible] when his attention was called [illegible] of smoke rising from the stairs [illegible] from the vestibule to the theater [illegible] had started under the staircase in [illegible] Measures were at once taken [illegible] a panic in the audience There [illegible] exits from the theater to which [illegible] were thrown open and a police officer [illegible] in and asked to guard the Broad [illegible]. In spite of the precautions [illegible] great excitement The informa[tion] that the building was on fire reached the [illegible] persons in the rear of the house and [illegible] through the audience like lightning The police officer stepped inside the door and [illegible] the audience that there was fire in [illegible] and advised every one to leave [illegible] quietly by the two doors on [illegible] street This quieted the [illegible] and the people dispersed without accident. The flames originated from the packing [illegible] one of the pipes attached to the [illegible] the vestibule. Damage slight

Murdering Stragglers and Wounded

[illegible], Dec. 18—Details of the fighting [illegible] show that the people of the city and [illegible] vied with each other in murdering [illegible] stragglers and wounded of the British army, some being actually murdered within 200 yards of the walls of [illegible]

Refugee Musselmen.

CONSTANTINOPLE Dec. 18—Telegrams from [illegible] and Philippopolis announce a frightful mortality among Musselmen refugees [illegible] that if something is not done to prevent there may be a terrible epidemic

Appointments.

[illegible], Dec. 18.—The appointments of [illegible] as Russian ambassador to Constantinople, and Doubril to Vienna have been [illegible] communicated

Will Sell.

[illegible], Dec 18—The Rheinish railway [illegible] has resolved to sell its line to the government on the terms offered

Threatened.

[illegible], Dec 18—The Civil and Military [illegible] reports that Gen Gough's brigade has [illegible] in the fort at Jugdulluk Several thousand Ghelgais are threatening it and [illegible] up defenses on the hills. Gen [illegible] has only six days provisions

Free Trade Demonstration.

LONDON, Dec. 18—A great demonstration in favor of free trade was made at Rochdale [illegible] John Bright and Thomas Bayley [illegible] were present Resolutions were passed [illegible] Potter for his efforts, and those of [illegible] in the United States to promote [illegible] with America Potter made a [illegible] in which he said he reciprocated kind [illegible] sentiments expressed by Americans toward Englishmen at many gatherings which [illegible] in America He paid a high [illegible] to the sobriety and fraternal bearing of the Americans and concluded by [illegible] Bright a number of congratulatory [illegible] from chief American cities in [illegible] hope was expressed that Bright would [illegible] America before he died Bright in reply [illegible] he could not adequately express his [illegible] for these letters. He had received [illegible] of invitations to visit the United [illegible] including one from President Hayes [illegible] at the White House as long as he [illegible] but he was obliged to decline all of [illegible] He hoped his friends in the United [illegible] would believe that he fully appreciated [illegible] kindness, but he feared there was little [illegible] of his accepting their generous invitations. Mr Bright then proceeded to describe the vastness of the United States as compared with European countries and concluded by saying he believed there was no country with which other countries were more friendly than with the United States

A ROUND OF PLEASURE

Gen Grant Attends a Campfire at Philadelphia—He Makes a Speech—Enthusiastic Greetings

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN

PHILADELPHIA, Dec 18—Gen Grant was to night escorted to a campfire at the Academy of Music by a delegation of the Grand Army of the Republic the route being brilliantly illuminated with [illegible] and calcium lights In one of the proscenium boxes sat General Grant's family and several personal friends The heads of the [illegible] ments and prominent military officers occupied the other boxes Gen Grant took his seat on the stage at the right of General Hartranft, who presided and the campfire was started by a reveille Comrade John Bayres chaplain of the department of Pennsylvania G A R offered a prayer Gov Hoyt delivered the address of welcome During the delivery General Grant stood facing Governor Hoyt and upon the conclusion of the latter's remarks the building seemed to fairly tremble under the enthusiastic greeting which the assemblage extended to the general He stood bowing his acknowledgements and as it was evident he desired to make some response the audience quickly settled into silence

Gen. Grant began by remarking that he was sorry that he had not prepared a response that would be more fitting under the circumstances than any he could make unprepared He then alluded to the opportunities of observation which his extended tour abroad had afforded him His journeys having included visits to every capitol in the world After referring to the spirit of enterprise in the American people many of whom he had met in Asia and elsewhere during his journey Gen Grant paid a tribute to the Grand Army of the Republic in which he thanked it heartily for the welcome it had given him and concluded "There is one thing I want to impress upon you as a result of my journey you have a country to be proud of to fight for and to die for No other country on the face of the earth can compare with ours especially in extent of undeveloped resources Again I thank you for the very cordial reception I have received at your hands [Enthusiastic cheering] This response was followed by music and addresses eulogistic of the general

THE COLUMBIA BAR

Its Past, its Present and its Future—The Size of its Basin.

BY REV G H ATKINSON

The outflow of a great river is of interest to scientific observers, as it is of value to men of commerce The Columbia drains an area more than three times as large as the six New England states or nearly twice the area of Great Britain including England Scotland Ireland Wales and their outlying islands It includes nearly all of Oregon and Washington and Idaho West Montana and Southeastern British Columbia The basin which it drains approximates 300 000 square miles or about 192 000 000 acres Its climate is almost that of France Great Britain, Belgium, Holland West Germany and Denmark but in mildness and range of thermometer its western portion is within one degree the equivalent of that of Paris Its strong current and vast outflow of rather warm waters into the Pacific ocean summer and winter never freezing over within sixty miles of the sea and feeling the tides 140 miles inland naturally invite commerce

These large interior regions with their uncounted resources of grain and other food staples, timber forests and mines of coal iron lime marble, gold and silver demand the commercial use and outlet of this water way with a force equal to its area and its mighty current.

ITS ROUTE TO THE SEA AGES AGO

The ideas of Geologists—as I understand them, are that these Pacific shores were once submerged, or low lands, with signs of the latter mesozoic or reptilian and cretaceous period, that by ocean pressure or earth shrinkage or both; they became slowly folded and wrinkled that through the cracks or fissures successive volcanoes burst forth pouring out rivers of lava which found their way down the lower channels or low water beds or creeks or sloughs, filling them These lava flows on cooling formed the great dykes of basalt and porphyry and other trappean rocks, which interlace this whole northwestern coast, and dot the bays and sounds with islands They also largely built up the Coast and Cascade ranges, and their outlying spurs and promontories

These dykes and mountain chains formed the rim of the open bays like Puget Sound and the Willamette valley—once a deep bay They in part, formed the grander rim of the interior lake system which Prof Condon has so finely illustrated in his lectures Its range included northern Nevada and Utah Idaho and Montana eastern Oregon and Washington and British Columbia It had the Rocky mountains for its eastern boundary and the Nevada and Cascade range for its western limit and the Blue mountain peaks for its island system Salt Lake and a few other lakes of the interior may be remnants of this old lake period

ITS DRAINAGE

It was the mission of the Columbia river to cut a channel through the Cascade range and along the lines of basalt ridges cliffs and headlands and find its outlet into the Pacific ocean As this slow erosion of the mountain pass—its chief work—went on the successive channel marks of which are written on the cliffs that overhang the Cascades the outflowing currents of the Columbia were depositing their abundant earth and sand wash and other debris between the two rock headlands Tillamook and Cape Disappointment The entire distance of about thirty miles between the two was no doubt the ancient Columbia delta It included the Clatsop plains beaches and tide lands up to the hills and spurs of the coast range The gradual filling up has closed all other channels that threaded their way to the ocean through this delta, and formed a firm [illegible] for forests and farms and has crowded this great river—with its work of erosion nearly done—hard up against the [illegible] rock of Cape Disappointment [illegible] land is protected against much wear from sea beat or river current [illegible]

The mighty currents of the river [illegible]

THE [illegible]

[illegible]

THE PROBLEM OF [illegible]

[illegible]

make Clatsop spit and [illegible] seas at [illegible] sea But the steadier and more [illegible] movement [illegible] the south [illegible] of Sand island [illegible] northward on an average of about [illegible] last ten years [illegible]

[illegible]

THE [illegible] OF A SHIFTING BAR

If the above [illegible] be all correct the Columbia river [illegible] were [illegible] shifting [illegible] at the mouth of the Yukon in Alaska [illegible] bars have been gradually changing [illegible] much shorter

What has been impossible by natural deposits may be [illegible] by artificial [illegible] For example Cape Disappointment and its approaches [illegible] immovable shore escarpment, along which river currents and ocean tides can flow or rush with [illegible] for ages The whole river may be safely crowded against this wall on the north

If a strong and long dyke of piles filled with fascines and imbedded in sand, like the sand dunes of Holland, which have so long breasted the shock of the North Sea billows could be made to form a south wall at the Columbia's mouth its own current and the tide flows would no doubt scour one deep and wide channel Sand Island would be a [illegible] seaward or be borne ashore

THE HYDRAULIC PROCESS OF PILING IN THE QUICKSANDS

Piles can be driven only a few feet in quicksand with the common pile driver They spring up and defeat the operator But Capt Parker sank piles deep and immovable around the City of Dublin by the hydraulic process He also sank them firm I am told for a government wharf at Fort Stevens

HYDRAULIC METHOD.

The process is simple A groove is cut along the pile to its lower point and a tube of two or three inches in diameter inserted The pile is lifted perpendicular to its place The hose of the steam pump is fastened to the upper end of the pipe and the water is forced through the pipe, stirring the sand under the pile to a mush The pile sinks by its own weight ten or twenty or thirty feet, as the operator plans He withdraws the tube quickly and his post is fastened immovably by the enclosing sand The whole process is completed in a few minutes

These test cases show that rows of piles can be sunk along the shore and sands north of the fort, and form the basis of a sea wall of sand fascines, perfectly protecting this structure

The same system of deep sunk piles could perhaps extend across the inner mouth of the south channel and along Clatsop spit far enough to force the river current and tide flow into narrower limits Clatsop spit seems to be the salient point for such a structure its sands abide well

No sea wall proves stronger than sand if it can be held in place

The test would be a pile system sunk deep enough to become a sure foundation against which the shifting sands would wash and remain at rest If by this process the two channels can be turned into one of three or four miles wide between the cape and the proposed dyke wall doubtless the depth would meet all the demands of future commerce while giving a water way large enough for the largest floods and highest tides

OBJECTIONS

Will the sands and debris form a new delta outside the two headlands and cause shallow water seawards?

The off shore soundings by the U S coast survey steam cutter Hassler Capt Geo W [illegible] commanding in 1877 extended north ward to Yoke Point lighthouse 26½ miles from Cape Disappointment coast line and 13 miles seaward from Cape Disappointment southward to False Tillamook Head 31½ miles coast line 15 miles seaward an area of 512 square miles

This southern sheet of sea floor slopes seaward on an average of five fathoms or 30 feet per mile and the northern sheet slopes seaward 3½ to 4 fathoms or 21 to 24 feet per mile

Outside of four or six miles are coast currents parallel to the shore line to the southward in summer and to the northward in winter whose velocities are very dependent on local winds which when strong often reverse the current

Inside of five or six miles the currents seem to be governed by the outflow and inflow of the Columbia river, south of Cape Disappointment Discolored water extends rarely more than five or six miles seaward.

WILL THIS OUTSIDE SEA FLOOR FILL UP?

If the river sands are pushed out seaward will the tides drive them back and form new embankments? This problem is to be solved at the mouth of the Mississippi, with less chance of a favorable result

1st The Columbia has a clear sea way outside the heads which furnish vast room for sand deposit

2d The north winds of summer and the south winds of winter form currents each way alternately and bear vessels and drift in each direction alternately This sub marine platform along shore indicates the same sand drift in both directions

3d The alluvial deposits from the Columbia and its affluents have been probably on the decrease as their channels have deepened to bed rock and not on the increase.

4th The risk of impeding sands forming outside the present bar if once borne outward is a problem too far future to disturb the value of the experiment of one channel scour if it can be successfully made

THE VALUE OF A SHORTER BAR AND A SINGLE CHANNEL

1st It would aid and assure the growing commerce of the Columbia

2d It would afford a much larger open harbor of entrance and thus of refuge and be of the greatest possible value and convenience along the coast between the Golden Gate and the Straits de Fuca

3d It would be a stimulus to hasten the railroad system of the whole interior west of the Rocky mountains the chief products of which large region must for ages find their transport to foreign markets over the Pacific ocean instead of the overland routes

4th It would hasten the canal system through the portages of the upper Columbia and its affluents and also the complete blasting out of rocks in the channels at [illegible] rapids All of these improvements are needed to perfect the two modes of transportation for the comfort and convenience of a [illegible] of the interior

5th It would do much to solve the problem of maritime trade centers and manufacturing centers on this northwest coast

6th It would direct and stimulate settlements and increase the opportunities and habits of industrial enterprise which [illegible] greatly [illegible] by the present [illegible] population

LATE FACTS

Since writing the [illegible] learned from reliable authority that [illegible]

[illegible]

THE [illegible]

[illegible] and [illegible] a marvel [illegible]

[illegible] commerce

No river can show a record so free of wrecks [illegible] Columbia bar [illegible] the Atlantic [illegible] has had a smaller per cent [illegible] safe [illegible]

[illegible] Hundreds of thousands of tons of wheat and flour [illegible] lumber [illegible] other cargo of vegetable and fruits [illegible] worth of goods imported have safely passed the bar either way in [illegible] seasons [illegible] years The wrecks [illegible] channel instead of bad charts [illegible] pilots had [illegible] seamen [illegible] almost be counted on [illegible] fingers

When Captain [illegible] of the Wilkes [illegible] expedition [illegible] no pilot except an Indian with whom he could neither talk English nor Chinook His only charts were [illegible] English Spanish and American coast [illegible] Such imperfect tracings as could be got in those jealous times from the reported charts of Vancouver and the English admiralty

LIST OF LOSSES

The Alta published a list of disasters north of San Francisco from the pen of [illegible] Shannon collector at San Francisco under the direction of the United States treasury department from January 1 1860 to December 31 1869—nine years Yet in this list of 198 disasters 110 wrecks all counting schooners plying along shore and only three occurred on the Columbia river bar vi

In May 1861 brig Woodpecker stranded loss $ [illegible]

In March 1865 bark Industry wrecked loss [illegible]

In May 1867 W J Scranton wrecked loss [illegible]

Total $130 000

This is a relative loss of only 1½ per cent in nine years, or ⅙ of 1 per cent in one year

Hon D C Ireland clerk of the pilot commissioners attested in 1877 that only nine vessels had been wrecked at or near the Columbia bar in the last twenty five years [illegible] of those were coming in without a pilot and the loss of the others was due to the loss of wind and the lack of a tug Since the tugs have been put on there has been no loss except the Architect coming in without a pilot These nine disasters in about 12 600 crossings during twenty five years is about 7 100 of one per cent

The steamer Republic came over the bar in the night and went on the sands in smooth water under a sky reported clear enough to see the monument on Sand Island

The City of Dublin came in without tug or pilot and went on the beach and lay there for weeks, slowly settling in the quicksands

The commissioner of the general land office at Washington reported to congress in 1870 By the use of a steam tug in crossing the Columbia bar the entrance to the harbor is rendered as safe as that of the Golden Gate or the Straits De Fuca

Capt G W Harris of the U S revenue service (who had crossed 30 times) says "The crossing of the bar at the mouth of the Columbia river with the ordinary precautions, is as safe as the entrance to any bay or harbor in the United States

Capt Francis Connor now commanding the steamship Oregon has crossed the Columbia bar over 1200 times in the last 16 or 17 years without a serious accident Col G I Gillespie chief of engineers U S A says the entrance to the Columbia bar is as safe as that of any great river on this continent Its tides on the bar rise from 6 to 10 feet The present lighthouses buoys monuments fog signals complete charts continually tested intelligent pilots skillful seamen under temperate and wise captains and the strong tugs all now combine to assure the safe ingress and egress of vessels carrying from 1000 to 2000 tons

Hitherto the Columbia river has been left to improve its own channel to the ocean It has carried on this immense hydraulic work unaided for untold ages past As its forces now seem to come into close quarters to plough a single deeper passage to the sea—with such help at this opportune moment as the U S government can wisely give—the signs point to a finished work that will equal that of any river or harbor on the globe These are the signs of that Creative Providence which built up this vast Pacific northwest and established its drainage through one grand river

SATURDAY MORNING DE[illegible] 1879

A PARTY OF EXPEDIENTS

For several years past the democratic party has been hampered by [illegible] party [illegible] weightly [illegible] elect ng principles of w[illegible] to construct its platforms. Its press and its orators in stumping whenever [illegible] different conventions in different parts of the country might promulgate have had the sorest sort [illegible] and have however been compelled to pursue such lines of argument that the editorials of democratic papers in the west would be regarded as rank heresy by members of the party in the east and the speech of a leading orator made to a northern audience would be received by democrats in the south with hisses and groans for the speaker. Pendleton Thurman Ewing Voorhees Buckner and a host of the great lights of the party west of the Alleghanies are considered by the democrats of New York and New England as foolish inflationists and denounced as renegades to the long established democratic principle of hard money.

But not alone on the currency question has the democratic party had to shape its principles to suit particular localities. Upon other lines its press and speakers have been compelled to use great caution lest in advocating a doctrine acceptable to one portion of the party they should express views which would alienate another portion. The Standard finds that the party in Oregon has made a mistake for several years past in the nomination of candidates for presidential electors prior to the meeting of the national convention of the party. By so doing the party compels a war democrat who may be a candidate for electoral honors to go on the stump and urge the people to vote for an anti war democrat who may have been nominated by the national convention; a hard money democrat is drafted into the place of an elector to work for and beg the people to vote for a greenbacker; a free trader is forced into the canvass to howl himself hoarse for a rank protectionist; the bitter bourbon must labor through the whole campaign to repress his own sentiments and for the election of a mild conservative. And so the list of perplexities and embarrassing positions which the former plan has imposed upon the electoral candidates might be lengthened out indefinitely.

But our contemporary does not show fully how much better it would be if the presidential candidate could be known before the electoral candidates were chosen. So much depends you know, upon the heartiness with which a man enters into a difficult work. For instance if the candidate was not known beforehand, we can think of only two men who would be eminently qualified for electors, say J N T Miller and John Parker. They voted for Hayes and Wheeler as electors of the state of Oregon in 1876 a test of the pliability of their democracy, which would seem to insure their earnest support of anybody. If, however Thurman is the candidate, then it would be necessary to pick out men for electors who can straddle the fence on financial matters with all the agility of a circus rider, they would also have to be men who could "blow hot and cold" on the "war" and "anti-war" questions. If Bayard be nominated by the national convention, it would not do at all to take any of the greenbackers or war democrats for electoral candidates, but if General Hancock should be the man, then a little less of the hard money principle and a good deal more of the "war" principle would be required of the electoral candidates. If Randall should get the national nomination, the Oregon convention could comb out three protectionists from its ranks for electors, but if a free trader should head the national ticket the democracy of Oregon could put out its free trade electors. In any case the state convention could find men in the party whose principles would just tally with those for which the presidential candidate might be distinguished.

This trouble of [illegible] candidates who can enter heartily into the work of securing their own elections, has not been experienced by any other party in the country because no other party has so entirely drifted away from the principles which once held it together and made it a unit upon the great issues of the day. No other party finds itself so entirely destitute of any well defined and well settled policy, in short no other party was ever so much a party of expedients as the democratic party of to day. The great and only underlying principle of the party is a desire to get control of the offices.

THE MAINE BUSINESS

Several days since THE OREGONIAN spoke of the count in Maine. At that time the true inwardness of the fraud was only outlined by the dispatches, but the evidence has been leaking out which places the action of the governor and council in a less favorable light. Hon E F Pillsbury, in a dispatch to the editor of the Chicago Daily News defends and excuses the action of the governor and council by which the people were defrauded of their choice of state officers and legislators. This gentleman says that the dominant party the republicans elected the apparent majority to the legislature by bribery, fraud and bulldozing. These terms have become so common to political parlance that they are very indefinite, but to hear charges of fraud and bulldozing from democratic saints is a little remarkable. This honorable gentleman also informs an anxious public that this piece of trickery and thievery is based upon opinions of the judges of the supreme court. It remains for him also to tell of the continued and long suffering which these innocents have borne without a murmur of complaint. Hear him: "During the twenty three years of republican rule they [republicans] have never lost an officer by such defects while the democrats have lost more or less every year." Then argues this astute apologizer of fraud the democrats by experience became more careful and the republicans more careless in making up their returns. Throughout his long letter Mr Pillsbury labors to convince the public of the entire regularity and consistency of the governor and council.

It was reserved however for later dispatches to lay bare the shameless steal as the news from Augusta this morning contains the information that Skowhegan was counted out at the eleventh hour and with great reluctance as the last resource in order to make a quorum of fusionists in the legislature. This is corroborated by letters of Mr Parker to the republican member-elect from that town only a few days prior before it was found that the predicament of a want of a quorum might arise. It lays open the true motives that governed the governor and council in their action and that is that no scruples should be ard the desired end to get control of the state government of Maine. It shows plainly that the motive was questioned by even the unscrupulous members of the board. It demonstrates that the end must be reached no matter what the means. It proves that the democratic board was willing to perpetrate any fraud to consummate the desired steal. It argues beyond a peradventure that the governor and council were willing to set aside the wishes expressed by a large majority for partisan ends upon the flimsiest pretexts and the subtlest technicalities.

The people of Maine are indignant and righteously so. The indignation is not confined to republicans. The extent of this intense feeling is not bound by party lines. It is only confined by the honest sentiment of all parties and creeds. The only persons who have the hardihood to [illegible] this action [illegible] the governor and council are the most unscrupulous partisans of the democratic party [illegible] excusers of this fraud find it hard to be [illegible] this sentiment which [illegible] free ba[illegible] made so vehemently a few months ago. The act is consummated and the honest and true men of Maine will see that they do not ratify it by continuing the perpetrators in office. Nor will it be confined to the borders of Maine. It will react on the democracy over the whole country and clearly demonstrate to [illegible] that [illegible] are dishonest in all their professions for a free ballot and [illegible]

SWINDLING UNDER STATE RIGHTS

The many sided principle of state rights seems to appear before the supreme court in a queer connection. The state rights doctrine has been summoned to the defense of every iniquity from slavery to illicit whisky making and now it is used to shield a lottery swindle from the operation of laws designed to check its preying upon the credulous and unsophisticated. The Louisiana lottery company appears to have a pretty good case against Postmaster General Key under the general principles of the inviolability of the mails and the sacredness of personal rights. But when it seeks shelter under the state constitution of Louisiana it calls attention to a very dubious provision in that instrument. The Louisiana constitution withdraws its recognition of the state lottery after 1895 but in the meantime it grants that concern what a lottery has never received before the full countenance and support of the organic law. This complaisance is partly explained by the circumstance that a large part of the revenues of Louisiana are drawn from the license fee paid by the lottery. So Postmaster Gen Key's crusade upon the enterprise is in reality an assault upon the resources of the state and it is intimated the attorney general will appear before the supreme court if necessary to defend the rights of the company. It will be a curious spectacle the attorney general of a state coming before the supreme court as the champion of a skin game, but it will be less curious than if the state were any other than Louisiana. There is a certain appropriateness in the relation there.

Another insurance man waits on us and shows in a communication found elsewhere that the expenses of the Portland fire department for the year ending June 30 1878 is only about one ninth instead of one half that expended for similar purposes in San Francisco. Although our first informant's figures were not made on 1878 he may have erred as to [illegible] to which year he probably referred. The figures for the year ending June 1878 being as our correspondent this morning states, it is not likely that the relative cost in the following year would be so greatly changed.

The Philadelphia Times thinks that if the brains of the democratic party were as large as its mouth it would get into much less trouble and that the members of that party in congress ought to let the mouth rest and set the brains at work. Very good advice from a paper of democratic tendencies.

Direct trade of the United States with France, says the Herald through the port of Bordeaux is urged by the chamber of commerce of the French city and would undoubtedly pay if Americans like other civilized people were allowed to buy ships.

CITY.

THE CITY PARK.—About a week ago a petition was circulated and received a number of signatures asking the common council to cause the city park to be opened and improved. At the last meeting of the common council the petition was read. A resolution was passed by that body authorizing the Mayor to appoint a committee of three to confer with Mr. E. O. Schwagerl, a very competent landscape engineer, and ascertain what compensation he would desire to lay out the city park. Mayor Thompson appointed as such committee, Councilmen Payne, Nicklin and Watson. The committee waited upon Mr. Schwagerl and laid the proposition before that gentleman. Mr. Schwagerl informed the committee that he would survey and lay out the city park for $300. In addition, he would require the payment of $15 for every day he remained in the city until the council made the contract with him, which would probably be several days. Yesterday afternoon an informal meeting of the common council was held at the chamber, for the purpose of considering the proposition of Mr. Schwagerl. By special invitation a number of prominent property holders were present. Mayor Thompson presided. He stated to all present the object for which the meeting was called, and desired an interchange of views in regard to the matter. The subject of Mr Schwagerl's proposition was discussed at considerable length by a number of gentlemen present. Much opposition was expressed to the project of improving the city park, and the vote for the adoption or rejection of Mr. Schwagerl's proposition stood, yeas, Nicklin, Payne and Watson; nays, Keller, Simon, Salle and Weber. Councilman Opitz was not present, but he informed several of the members that he was opposed to the proposed improvement of the city park—at least for the present—and had he been present he would doubtless have voted in the negative. The proposition having been rejected, the meeting adjourned.

ARCHBISHOP SEGHERS.—In speaking of Archbishop Seghers' visit to Eastern Oregon, the Sentinel says: "He will celebrate mass at Umatilla on Sunday (to-morrow) and will remain until after Christmas. On the following Sunday his grace will be at the Dalles where he will administer the sacrament of confirmation. The archbishop desires to fill these appointments during the present mild season, as he fears that navigation might close in January and thus defer his long expected visits until late in the spring. His grace hopes to be able to reach Astoria by the last Sunday in January, provided no unforeseen delay occurs during his present visit."

REPORT OF VISITING PHYSICIAN.—The report of the visiting physician of the Oregon insane asylum for the quarter ending November 30, 1879, shows the following admissions, discharges and deaths in that institution for the past three months: Inmates received: males, 26; females, 10; total, 36; discharged: males, 13; females, 4; total, 17; died: males, 7; females, 2; total, 9; number of inmates on hand December 1, 1879: males, 192; females, 8; amount paid Dr. Hawthorne for care and treatment of patients for the quarter, $16,-[illegible]

APPOINTED.—Governor Thayer has recently appointed T. A. Wood, of Portland, notary public, and F. A. Burnham, No. 150 Canal street, New York city, commissioner for Oregon. The governor, in accordance with the wishes of the Portland board of trade, has appointed William MacCann, of Liverpool, England, honorary commissioner of the board of immigration of Oregon to reside in [illegible]

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Thursday evening a man in the employ of O. F. Sites, met with a painful accident. He was waiting on a customer and while tying a package, rolled a piece of the strong twine around his finger and then gave a quick jerk to break the twine. Instead of snapping, however, the twine caught on his finger nail, and the sudden jerk yanked it out by the roots.

ELECTED.—At the annual election of Portland Lodge No. 55, A. F. & A. M., held last evening, the following officers were elected: [illegible] Moreland, W. M.; Joseph Simon, S. W.; [illegible] Strong, J. W.; Chas. Fishel, Treas.; B. Whitehouse, Sec.—all re-elected. They will be installed on the evening of St. John's day, the 27th inst., with the officers of the other lodges of the city.

NO SERVICES.—It was expected that Prof Van Scoy, of Salem, would occupy the pulpit of the Taylor street M. E. church to-morrow morning and evening. A dispatch was received from Prof. Van Scoy yesterday stating that owing to sickness he would be unable to fill his appointment. Owing to this unexpected event, there will be no services at the church to-morrow.

LIST OF LETTERS.—The following letters remain uncalled for at the office of Wells, Fargo & Co.: Gus. Arpin, M. H. Black, G. W. [illegible] J. Earl, Mrs. Mama Konig, T. C [illegible] Miss McGee & Richeb, Thos. B. Mc[illegible], G. L. Ordway, Mrs. C. A. Petrari, A. W. Perace, C. W. Ransom, John L. [illegible], O. M. Taylor, Wilson M. Tigard, P. J. [illegible], Esq.

LOSSES ADJUSTED.—The insurance companies settled yesterday with W. J. Quinn on losses in the Stark street fire as follows:

[illegible], on policy of $700 on stock and $100 fixtures	$120 58
[illegible] on $1000 policy	96 97
[illegible] on $1000 policy	96 97
Total paid on $2500 insurance	$314 52

G. A. R. BALL.—The second monthly reunion and ball under the auspices of [illegible] Wright Post G. A. R., was given at the hall corner First and Taylor streets last evening. Like the other entertainments given by this society, it was a thoroughly enjoyable affair, and will be pleasantly remembered by the many participants.

THE WEATHER.—The lines being down south of Roseburg, we are without the usual weather indications for to-day. There was a [illegible] east wind all day, and the thermometer [illegible] 25° here. The indications are not unfavorable for continued cold weather and snow. At Roseburg there was two inches of snow yesterday.

SHIPPING.—The ships Napier and Electra, both laden with wheat for Europe, expect to leave Astoria to-day. The latter named (the Electra) is a very fine specimen of what is known as composite ships; combining the internal strength of iron vessels with the external advantages of wooden vessels, copper fastened.

CARRYING THE MAILS.—Messrs. John P. [illegible] and W. H. Foster have been awarded the contract for carrying the mails to and from Portland and The Dalles during the Columbia freeze-up. They are required to carry the mails twice a week during the time the Columbia is closed.

WANTS ACTIVE SERVICE.—Colonel G. O. Haller was recently telegraphed by General Howard desiring to know whether he wanted to go into active military service or be placed upon the retired list. The colonel's reply was that he desired active service.

SCHOOL TAXES—PAY UP.—This is the last day to pay taxes for District No. 1. Call on D. W. Williams, clerk, 149 Third street, at once, and save costs.

HAS ARRIVED.—A dispatch from Astoria yesterday afternoon says that the barkentine [illegible] arrived at that port at 3 o'clock P.M

The entertainment given at Y. M. C. A. hall Dec. 5 will be repeated Dec. 26, in response to a very general request. Several changes and additions will be made, but the principal features of the programme will be retained. The prices of admission will be reduced to 25 cents. Tickets for sale by members and at the music stores.

The elegant doll now on exhibition in Mrs Pilger's window will be raffled. Chances can be obtained by calling at Mrs. Pilger's establishment.

Little folks can find albums, books and fancy goods suitable for holiday presents at [illegible]

For cheap suits see W. J. Quinn, No. 104 First street, up stairs. This is no humbug.

Good second hand pianos for sale cheap at Bartsch's Music store, 143 First street.

The finest diamonds are sold at J. Van Beurden's,—Gill's old stand.

Diaries for 1880 at McKercher & Thompson's, 105 First street

See the new goods offered by B. L. Stone, jeweler.

BRIEF NOTES.

Whoa.

Tingling ears this weather.

Steamer State of California due.

Boreas was on a jam last night.

The steamer Oregon off this morning

Demand for hot drinks on the increase.

The little tug [illegible] is all right again.

Social at the Unitarian church last evening.

Next Monday will be the shortest day of the year

It is settled that we don't have any [illegible]

Ye winged winds howled around [illegible] last night.

The [illegible] last night. This time it was in East Portland

Open temperance meeting this evening at the Y. M. C. A. rooms

Mercury comes down. Skates will probably go up in the air if they don't in price.

Glorious prospects of skating and sleighing. A little of the "beautiful snow" will settle the question.

The way old signs creaked and groaned last night was a good sign that the wind god was around.

A water pipe burst at the intersection of Park and Morrison streets, Thursday night, throwing spray 20 feet high.

Bristol, one of the letter carriers, has laid off for a few days on account of an accident. He has a "sub" on his route.

Mt. Hood Hose & Ladder Company of East Portland, at their meeting last night, decided to give a fancy dress ball on the 16th of January.

Happy, happy Chicago. She gets the presidential convention. Everything will be furnished free, except beer and the price of that staple article will not be raised.

At the late annual meeting of the Church Extension Society of the M. E. church, $500 was asked of the Oregon conference and $300 authorized; $800 was asked of the Columbia river conference, and $1700 authorized.

The friends of Miss Nettie Starkey will be pleased to learn that she is convalescent and able to be around once more. She has been ill for nearly two months with typhoid fever at the residence of Justice R. E. Bybee.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Read Olds & King's announcement this morning.

There will be an auction sale by Gilman & Co. at their salesroom this morning at 10 o'clock. A great number of very valuable books will be sold. Fail not to attend the sale.

Boulard & Co. have purchased the entire interest of Fournier & L'Ecuyer in the Central Market restaurant, corner of Second and Ash streets, and will continue the restaurant on the same popular scale as it has been heretofore conducted.

The large and splendid stock of pictures, chromos, oil paintings and steel engravings of Mr. Victor Volney will be disposed of at auction to-day. The entire stock of his art gallery will be sold regardless of cost. A splendid chance for bargains. A. B. Richardson will officiate.

Mr. John B. Miller desires to announce to the public that he has just received a large invoice of diamonds, watches, chains, lockets, bracelets, rings, charms and miscellaneous jewelry on consignment from New York. These goods must be sold at once. Mr. Miller promises to furnish the very best goods at the lowest possible prices.

A skilled optician has long been needed in this community. Those people needing glasses need not any more purchase of inexperienced parties, whose knowledge of the eye is not any greater than their own. E. de Jongh, the celebrated optician, has opened a store at 149 Third street, between Morrison and Alder, and is the only skilled optician in the northwest.

John A. Child, the well known druggist in the Centennial block on Second street near Morrison, has just received direct from eastern markets, an elegant lot of holiday presents in the way of toilet sets, in leather and velvet cases, perfumes, mirrors, etc., all purchased before the recent advance. These goods are displayed with much taste, and purchasers are invited to see them before buying elsewhere.

THE WEATHER.

Reports from up the Columbia—An Early Closing of the River inevitable.

Last evening the following dispatches were received at the O. S. N. Co.'s office here, which will indicate the state of the weather at the several points named:

Celilo—Heavy down stream wind; snowing; thermometer, 20°; river has fallen one inch since morning; there is 1½ inches of snow now on the ground.

Scotts—Weather cloudy; snowing; thermometer, 18°; heavy east wind blowing. There are about 8 inches of snow on the ground.

Hood River—Snowing steadily. There are about 5 inches now on the ground. Thermometer, 18°; down stream wind.

Umatilla—Weather cloudy; thermometer, 20°; wind still blowing a gale from the north. The Faxon is wind bound above Umatilla rapids. The steamer Almota is still here.

Wallula—Wind is still blowing very hard down stream; snowing lively; river standing. The snow does not melt as it falls in the water. There is considerable snow floating along the shore. Ice has been forming all day between the bank and wharfboat. Thermometer, 16° all day long. There are about two inches of snow.

Cascades—Cloudy; heavy north wind; thermometer, 23°.

In view of the certain closing of the Columbia, the company has ordered all their boats above Celilo into winter quarters. No freight will be received here for points above the Dalles, and no tickets sold for points higher than that place. Boats will continue to make daily trips from Portland to The Dalles as long as the river remains open.

ENTERTAINMENT.

Next Tuesday evening a literary and musical entertainment for the benefit of the Colored Immigration Aid Society will be given at Good Templar Hall. The following is the programme:

FOR THE LADIES.

No fashionable lady should be without a muff of leopard skin.

New French flowers only grow in the vast garden of imagination.

Poor Marie Antoinette is rung in again on the winter fashions.

Parisian modistes predict the early death of the fashion of short dresses.

Doctors say sealskin cloaks are unhealthy. They are in price, at all events.

A new style of trimming is black satin leaves put on the skirt in double rows.

There is only one kind of gravy, but in bonnets the styles are almost innumerable.

Something new in street costumes are corduroy skirts and overdresses of camel's hair.

Now that colored girls have adopted the Derby hat white ladies will probably discard them.

Some of the flaring bonnets recall the young women who ride in the first act at the circus.

Black velvet trimmed with chinchilla fur makes the most elegant street costume for little girls.

Fans are now in the Egyptian style, and are just gaudy enough to be left in the shop windows.

Undressed kid gloves never go out of fashion, and in this respect may be likened unto gas bills.

Dress materials are all going up in price, and shop keepers affirm that now is the accepted time to buy.

THE ODD FELLOWS' ORPHANS' HOME—THE BEAVERS AT WORK.

[Communicated.]

M. W. G. M. John Kenworthy, P. G. George H. Chance and grand representative, members of the board of trustees of the Odd Fellows' Orphans' Home and Educational Fund, made an official visit to Beaver Lodge No 35 I. O. O. F. at Astoria on Thursday evening in the interest of said fund. The brethren present responded to the appeal made in raising by individual subscriptions, in the short space of fifteen minutes, the snug sum of $300 toward the fund, and have promised to largely increase the amount before the May session of the Grand Lodge. Success to the "Beavers,"—may they never lack mud for their trowels, nor sticks with which to build their dams.

For the information of the uninitiated we will state that the Odd Fellows of this jurisdiction propose to secure by purchase or otherwise a suitable country site and to erect thereon the necessary buildings for a comfortable home and practical labor educational institute for the especial benefit of the orphan children of deceased Odd Fellows, but extending its privileges and benefits to others (under proper restrictions) at a nominal cost.

For the purpose above named it is proposed to raise by donation from individual Odd Fellows the sum of ten thousand dollars by the time the Grand Lodge meets in May next. The Grand Lodge under whose care and control the "Home" will be, has already levied a pro rata tax upon its subordinates in the interest of the "Home," which continued tax will insure its maintenance and perpetuity. We bid this and all similar enterprises God speed.

TO THE PUBLIC.

My attention has often been called to the fact that a few unscrupulous persons who are jealous of the reputation of the Steinway Piano, as it interferes with the selling of their cheap instruments, are circulating the report that the Steinway Pianos are not as good as formerly, or similar expressions.

In reply to these falsehoods I would say that the facts are quite to the contrary, as the Steinway Piano has never before reached such perfection in every respect as at the present time; and I am prepared to prove any and every assertion I may make.

I challenge any person in this city to place any piano they may choose alongside of a Steinway of my selecting, and compare the two in Workmanship, Finish, Tone or Improvements.

Having been brought up in the business of piano making in all its branches, I consider myself a thorough judge of what an instrument is or should be.

I never would have taken the agency of the Steinway Piano had I not positively known that it was by far the best instrument made, as I have had occasion to examine all makes and kinds, both here and in Europe.

And I further state that I have never sold a second-class piano for a first-class, a practice which is very frequent. When I make a statement in regard to a piano I am prepared to prove it.

FOUND AT LAST.

Not Charlie Ross, but a remedy for the backache and all kidney troubles in the Oregon Kidney Tea. This wonderful discovery has been before the public for a short time only, but in that time has achieved a marvelous fame. Hundreds of our best citizens in all parts of the state have been cured or permanently benefited by its use. Try it.

ANOTHER INSURANCE MAN'S FIGURES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In reading your editorial in Friday's issue on "Fire Matters," I was surprised to find the following: "A prominent insurance man who has examined the subject thoroughly states that the cost of maintaining the Portland department was half as great as that of running the department of San Francisco, though the latter city has about four times the amount of apparatus to handle which Portland has."

Our citizens have always felt a pride in our fire department and pay for its support cheerfully, but it is to be hoped our city authorities will never make their estimates for that or any other department with that degree of recklessness manifested by your informant. Where does he get his figures? Has he been reading some of the fire insurance statistics and got bewildered by the large array of figures? I take it the proper place to get the actual cost is the auditors' reports of the two cities, by reference to which I find the cost of the San Francisco department for the year ending June 30, 1879 (the latest available) to be $263,[illegible]. The cost of the Portland department (including No. 1's engine house $7642 25) for the year ending Dec. 31, 1878, was $28,277 85. A few items of comparison of details may be of interest:

Under the head of salaries San Francisco paid chief engineer assistants and other officers and employes not belonging to companies	$22,807 50
To 11 Fire Companies	82,830 00
To 4 Hook & Ladder Companies	30,120 00
To 8 Hose Companies	29,340 00
Total Salaries	$165,097 50
Portland paid its chief engineer	$1200 00
Department secretary	200 00
Allowance to 4 Engine Companies	6600 00
Allowance to H. & L. Co. No. 1	300 00
Total (in comparison) as salaries	$[illegible] 00

(The allowance to companies is intended to enable each company to pay its engineer or janitor, and for fuel and lights.)

San Francisco expended under the head of—

Material (including hose)	$26,407 45
Running expenses	54,066 66
Cisterns and hydrants	6,789 10
	$87,263 21

For similar items Portland paid:

Repairs and supplies	$[illegible] 21
New hose	1063 33
New steamer (No. 5)	4075 95
Heaters for three engines	391 00
Repairs to engine houses	571 74
Damages to building	120 00
	$7310 23

I have segregated from Portland expenditures the items of water supply, $3 600; alarm telegraph, $829 60; house for No. 1, $7,642 25, and from the S. F. report expenses, fire commissioners, $1,232 10; fire alarm and police telegraph salaries, $7,500; repairs and extensions, $5,212 71, as not being fair items of comparison. I infer that items of "fuel," "light" and repairs to buildings are chargeable in S. F. to specific appropriations applicable to all public buildings.

I notice with pleasure that the common council have provided for the purchase of a Hayes truck, and presume the other necessaries will follow as fast as the wants of our growing city can be met without undue increase to the rate of taxation.

W. S. C.

NEW ZEALAND INSURANCE COMPANY.

[From the N. Y. Dry Goods Bulletin.]

The Colony of New Zealand is almost antipodal to us of New York. It consists of three islands—North, South and Stewart's—all lying far to the east of Australia. The population scarcely exceeds half a million, though some fifty thousand Maori, or native Indians, are still found upon the islands. It seems but yesterday that we heard of New Zealand, and yet it already has a history. In round numbers, the colony has more than 13,000,000 sheep, and in 1877 raised nearly 61,000,000 pounds of wool, that sold for $18,291,696.

These distant and thinly populated islands may appear a singular location for an insurance company; but let us examine a few more facts. From 1862 to 1865, the Colony raised $151,271,293 of gold. In 1870 they raised a loan of $20,000,000 for public works—roads, bridges, telegraph lines, etc. Her central port, Auckland, is one of the finest harbors; out of the way and yet directly in the way. Her people are wealthy, as is shown by the fact that the Bank of New Zealand has assets of $58,000,000, the New Zealand Loan & Mercantile Company assets of $19,000,000, and the financial stockholders of these institutions have organized the NEW ZEALAND INSURANCE COMPANY—fire and marine—with a capital of $5,000,000; head office at Auckland.

This Company was organized in 1859, and, strange as it may seem, in view of the immense wealth which they represent, with unlimited liability of stockholders. In their statement last year the showing was most excellent. Assets, $1,985,655; surplus for policy holders, $1,450,941; premiums received to May 31, 1878, $7,495,177; losses paid to date, $4,509,902. The Company underwrite through their agents against all fire or marine losses. Claims are settled and paid at any of the agencies, which are located at various ports throughout the whole civilized world. The managers of the Company are HUGH CRAIG, at No. 307 California street, San Francisco; and W. F. BROWN, No. 7 First street, Portland, Oregon.

Such is this antipodal insurance company. Their showing is positively grand, their means ample, their high and responsible character unquestionable, the features of the charter such as to render each stockholder personally liable for any and every loss. They offer their abundant means to the whole outside world, and have already met the most extended encouragement. It is creditable to find known wealth thus stepping forward in the insurance line. There is no quibbling about payment. Every loss is honorably and promptly liquidated and the damage as promptly paid.

LADIES' EMPORIUM.

The new Ladies' Emporium of Fashion, Art and Novelties established by John B. Garrison at 149 Front street is fast becoming one of the leading attractions of the city of Portland. Here can be found genuine French point lace handkerchiefs and skillful imitations of same; hemstich, border, plain linen and every variety of silk handkerchiefs; a full assortment of ladies' scarfs, chenilles and embroidered gifts; 400 varieties of relief pictures from fancy work. It is the depot of supplies for the Centennial, Wave and other platters, immortelle flowers, Pampas plumes. A large and varied assortment of coral jewelry, zephyrs, Germantown and Saxon wools; patterns and material for making Honiton lace, card and Bristol board, ribbons, spirals; a choice variety of aprons, mottoes, scissors, hand and machine needles, visiting cards, combs, and many other articles too numerous to mention, selected with care for the holiday trade. Happy to see you. Will endeavor to please you with bargains at our one price accommodation store, 149 Front street. "The Ladies' Emporium."

White's Prairie Flower.

Taken before retiring, will insure a good night's rest, with an awakening in the rosy morn to health courage and vigor. For coated tongue, bad breath sick headache, or any disturbance arising from dyspepsia or torpid liver, it is without a peer. Its action on disease is entirely different from any medicine ever introduced, quieting pains almost instantly. The hue and cry raised against it by patent medicine men, who have foreseen in its advent the destruction of their nefarious business and the thousands of unsolicited testimonials flowing in from all parts of the New World, is a sure indication of its great merits. Trial size at all Drug Stores. Half pound bottles 75 cents.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. WM. SCHEFFLER'S ST. HELENA

SANITARY, VACUUM DISTILLED GRAPE BRANDY AND GOOD OLD EDGE HILL WINES.

Mr Scheffler is sole proprietor of the principle known as the vacuum process of distilling, by which the fusil oils are left with the residue and not incorporated with the brandy, leaving it pure and free from all deleterious substances which does and must exist in all alcoholic liquors distilled by the usual process of boiling heat. California Physicians have pronounced their preference of it to all other. Doctor Cox, government revenue officer at Cincinnati, Ohio, says in his report, that after ten years' of close investigation he can safely say that very few, if any, pure wines or brandy are exported from the Old Continent to this. He has found none in his many analyses—that all are doctored before leaving France. The French Consul at Buenos Ayres writes home to his government that so much complaint is made there of the appearance of litharge and other dangerous drugs in all their French wines, that there is great danger of losing the trade of the Argentine States. Other proofs could be cited, were it necessary, to prove the superiority of the best class of California wines and brandy. Orders from responsible parties, addressed to Wm. Scheffler, or Geo. H. Beach, St. Helena, Napa county, Cal., will receive prompt attention.

Thousands have been changed by the use of the Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron) from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy and happy men and women, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial. For Dyspepsia and Debility it is a specific.

The lovely girl and goodly boy
Should have their socks filled to the tops
With bon bons, caramels and drops;
Cornucopias of candy
For presents you'll find them handy;
Boxes of fancy candies mixed
With these to Christmas you'll be fixed.

For Santa Claus (you know 'tis so)
Expects you to the stores to go
And at B. L. Stone's candy store
You'll be supplied with goodies galore;
Remember, corner of First and Ash,
And call in time before the rush.

SATURDAY MORNING, DEC. 20, 1879.

THE POWER OF HUMAN LOVE

WHAT HAPPENED IN A NEW ENGLAND TOWN A HUNDRED YEARS AGO.

She was a matron, wise and good,
He was half witted, coarse and rude,
A lonely outcast in the wood.

Her husband, children, neighbors saw
Her life without a spot or flaw,
Moulded by Puritanic law.

To him there came no influence wise,
Which to our weakness strength supplies—
No church, school, home, no human ties.

What could there be between the two?
What could she have with him to do?
His very name she never knew.

Nothing, if they are right who claim
Self happiness man's only aim,
And Christ a myth, and God a name.

"We see," men said, "the fellow lurk
Behind a bush to steal and shirk.
The rascal, if he chose, could work.

"Don't give him lame at other meal,
And if he comes our fowls to steal
The lazy brute the jail shall feel."

She heard them talk and went her way,
Said nothing, but at break of day
Some food upon a shelf there lay.

Soon down the lonely road he came,
Half conscious of the village blame,
His hunger struggling with his shame.

He stopped, he saw the bread and meat,
Looked quickly up and down the street,
Seized it, and fled with hasty feet.

Next day again he left the wood,
And lo! upon the shelf there stood
Once more a dish of savory food.

And every day he came to find
His daily bread, till on his mind
Dawned some faint thought that men were kind.

And, though no word between them passed,
He knew he had a friend at last,
And sunshine on his path was cast.

With power some shadow to dispel,
To him it was a miracle,
As though each day from Heaven it fell:

A miracle his soul to move,
True manna dropping from above—
For the true Bread from Heaven is Love.

Unmarked continuous movements go;
The Earth's swift flight, Time's steady flow,
We scarcely feel, or see, or know.

Thus steadfast goodness, moving on
Without a pause, is scarcely known;
Yet all miss it when 'tis gone.

So to this town there came one day
A sense of something passed away,
Some influence, guidance, help and stay.

And when the people of the place
Came in, and looked upon the place,
Transfigured by death's solemn grace,

There, with the rest, amazed, they find
Him, to whom she alone was kind,
Well clothed and in his proper mind.

And when a curious stranger read
Her name upon the plate, he said:
"She's my friend, and she is dead.

"But now I'll try to work a bit,
For if my lazy ways I quit
'Twill please her when she hears of it."

We all through Love or Life receive,
Since only while we love we live,
And life cannot in death believe.

Thus to the mind in darkness sealed,
Love showed the truth from Thought concealed,
And immortality revealed.

THE NORTHWEST.

The Willamette Valley.

Wheat is $1 at Albany.

Albany had a little fire on Monday; loss, $100.

The farmers of Linn county report that the grain looks well.

The treasurer of Polk county has paid $4000 of the state taxes of that county.

In the Albany hunt last week Hackleman's side won, making 1214 points to Burkheart's side 860.

G. A. Wells, of Benna Vista, killed a hog last week that weighed 426 pounds. The hog was one year and six months old.

Christmas trees are growing throughout the Willamette valley. Nearly every village and town is going to indulge in the luxury this year.

Geo. W. Sill, superintendent of the Plummer fruit dryer at Corvallis, says he has shipped seven tons of fruit, most of which goes to Liverpool.

Paul Dudley of Sage creek, Benton county, met with a very serious accident last Wednesday by running a pair of sheep shears into his back as he was rising from a stooping position.

A son of Hon. J. P. Schooling of Harrisburg, accidentally shot himself with a revolver. The ball struck on the right side of leg, ranging downward lodged in the ankle, making a wound 15 to 18 inches long.

Col. Hogg, who is interested in the Yaquina bay railroad scheme, writes from Baltimore that he spends a portion of each day in Washington, and says he is well pleased with the prospects of Oregon and that our citizens have no cause of complaint.

On Thursday, says the Itemizer, as the train was leaving Sheridan, a man was seen coming toward that place who signaled it to stop. The train was stopped and the conductor, seeing the man acted very strangely, offered to assist him. By the time he was reached he had walked into a ditch. He would not allow them to assist him, as he would take care of himself and used very abusive language toward the men. He was then left standing in the water and the train moved on. At 6 o'clock, as Mr. R. Shay and W. Holmes, two men in the employ of the railroad, were coming out to work, they found the man had wandered down the drain near to where it empties into the Yamhill river, near the Sheridan bridge, and had fallen down into the water and was drowned. An inquest was held and it was found that his name was James Hovey, a shoemaker of Sheridan, who had been on a spree. A silver watch and $4 50 in silver were found on his person.

Eastern Washington.

It is reported that the boats will stop running from Celilo to Wallula on the 20th inst.

The flouring mills are running day and night with all the work they can possibly do, at Pomeroy, W. T.

The Yakima Record is informed by Sam. C. Miller, who keeps a trading store at the mouth of the Wenachie, that "there is a large scope of land lying along the banks of the Columbia and Wenachie upon which the water for irrigation purposes could be easily brought. The Indians in his neighborhood, a majority of them, are securing their 'Boston papers,' and locating on the most desirable portions. They are making some substantial improvements in the way of building log houses, the logs for which they haul about four miles.

GOLDENDALE NOTES.

[REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

GOLDENDALE, W. T., Dec. 18.

Another hotel opened out yesterday with M. V. Harper proprietor. This makes the fourth in Goldendale.

The new Christian church has been completed and I understand services were held in the same on last Sabbath.

Prof. Wash has leased the Goldendale academy of the stockholders and will open the same for school in a few days.

The Goldendale Legion of Honor (a temperance society) completed its organization last evening and chose and installed officers as follows, viz.: W. R. Dunbar, president; Hons. M. V. Harper and J. R. Short, vice presidents; Prof. W. A. Wash, secretary; Miss Abbie Weller, assistant secretary; S. Lancaster, corresponding secretary; Wm. Dickson, treasurer, and I. B. Courtney, conductor.

The snow fall of the 5th instant lasted until the 11th, when a mild Chinook from the southwest drove it from the face of the earth, and for several days thereafter we had real Oregon weather, both mild and moist, and stock men and farmers who had plowing to do wore smiling faces, and the latter industriously made use of the time in breaking sod and in other ways preparing for putting in spring crops.

Yesterday morning a cold wind came swooping down from the Simcoe mountains and soon brought with it snow again. A depth of two inches has been attained and the sky is clear again. We are expecting our winter to begin now at any time.

FROM La CENTER.

A correspondent writing from LaCenter under date of the 15th says:

Business here is very good for the winter season.

The citizens here are making preparations for a Christmas tree.

A great many are coming here to look for land, and seem well satisfied with the country.

Mr. Thomas, of this place, has purchased an interest in the steamer Latona and will take the position of engineer of the craft.

The store of Mr. John H. Piper, near Stayton, about four miles above this place was destroyed by fire yesterday morning at 5 o'clock. The fire was not discovered until the roof had fallen in. Mr. Piper loses about $2500; insurance in the New Zealand, $1500. The origin of the fire is unknown.

TO AFFORD IMMEDIATE RELIEF IN ASTHMA try Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, which it acts promptly by overcoming the spasmodic contraction of the wind tubes and by causing the ejection of the mucus which clogs them. For Whooping Cough, Croup and Hoarseness this medicine is equally beneficial, while for all Pulmonary and Bronchial Disorders it is both a palliative and curative, and a sure and prompt remedy for all common Coughs and Colds. DR. PAUL M. BRENAN,

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast.

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL
CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH.

Such as SPERMATORRHEA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.
